Ideas for Sustaining Development after the Initial TMP Debrief

PACING APP – An interactive tool designed to help improve communications with others. This report gives you advice about “Pacing” a specific individual.

TIPS FOR COMPLETING THE PACING APP –

- The person who you are completing the Pacing App on does not need to have an active TMP. Sometimes it makes more sense to complete the App based on your perception alone, rather than their work preferences.

NEWLY FORMED REMOTE TEAM LOOKING FOR NEXT STEPS AFTER TMP DEBRIEF –

“We are a new team and do not work out of the same office. After completing the TMP, the facilitator suggested some next steps for us. One of the next steps she suggested was for each of us to complete the Pacing App on each other. Once we completed the app we were instructed to share our Profiles and Pacing App with one another.

At the next team meeting, we shared key findings with one another. Everyone was asked to share one tip for communicating with them. This led to some great discussions on how to schedule our future team meeting agendas and what was important to each team member.”
